Dave McNally | Product Designer & Developer

inbox@davemc.me +44 7939 664 134 https://davemc.me

I am a designer who loves to code. Whether that assists me in working with engineers and design QA or implementing designs myself. I have several years of experience working for distributed teams across different timezones with different cultures and I specialise in taking products from zero-to-one.

EXPERIENCE

coherence | Product Designer & Developer | View Case Study

I worked for coherence, a remote-first company based in Sweden, on design across the entire product. From foundational research and establishing a design system to onboarding new hires and developing our marketing pages and dashboard.

June 2022 – March 2025

Altair Interactive, Inc | Design Lead | View Case Study

As a small startup, my role at Altair has encompassed the full spectrum of design. I created our design system in Figma, wireframed user flows, designed global branding elements such as iconography and produced high fidelity mockups and prototypes to hand over for development and implementation on the platform.

July 2020 – March 2022

Maxweb Solutions Ltd | Senior UI/UX Designer

Worked on a variety of client projects doing both design and development for clients including Nike, Bentley Motors and many others.

2017 – 2020

Freelance | Designer & Front-end Developer

As a freelance designer and developer, I worked on a wide variety of client projects for companies around the world from small local businesses to large corporations covering multiple industries.

2006 – Present
